AT THE HIGH SCHOOL

ALL IN READINESS FOR SENIOR PLAY—INTERURBAN ORATORICAL FRIDAY

All was excitement around school to-day in preparation for the first performance of the senior class play, "Amarilly of Clothes' Line Alley," which takes place this evening in the auditorium at eight o'clock. All of the reserved seat tickets have been sold, and an attendance record is predicted by many for the opening night. Lehman Grandall, who is the financial manager of the affair, reports that already over 250 general admission tickets have been sold, and as there are only about 200 seats, there is liable to be a grand rush for seats when the door opens. So, take heed to this simple little warning, "Come early and avoid standing up."

Quite a number of students are planning to attend the Interurban Oratorical Contest to be held Friday night at Pasadena High School. Frank Balthis, who was the winner in the recent interclass contest, will be Glendale's representative, and considering the topic on which he will speak, coupled with his wonderful delivery, should give him a place among the winners. His subject is "Woodrow Wilson, the Man of the Hour." Young Balthis' opponents will be speakers from the high schools of Pasadena, Huntington Beach, Long Beach and Santa Ana.

Yesterday afternoon the regular weekly meeting of the Rostrum took place in Room I with president-elect Berna Martin presiding. After the minutes of the previous meeting were read and approved the report of the constitution committee was submitted by David Johnston and accepted. The chairman of the program committee, namely, Frank Balthis, then gave the report of his fellow committeemen, and told of the two social functions which have been planned for the coming two weeks. The first will be in the nature of a banquet to take place Thursday, May 10, in the cooking room of the school. The other event will be a literary program to be presented in the assembly on Wednesday, May 16. The program will be composed of the following: a recitation by Francis Gauntlett, readings by Oilve Taylor and Margaret Lusby, and a debate between James McClusky, Merva Scott, Margaret Hudson and David Johnston.

BENEFIT CARD PARTY

The benefit card party for the Dependence Fund of the Woman's Auxiliary of the Home Guard was a grand success, due to the hearty cooperation of everybody, financial returns being very satisfactory.

The committee in charge wish to thank the business people for their help and to express their appreciation for the donations of money from those who could not come to the entertainment. The merchants donating supplies were Miss Pollard, Mr. Parker of the Quality Store, Mr. Furst of the White Store, and Mr. Chase of the Glendale Press, Mr. C. O. Pulliam, Mr. Phillips and Mr. Ezra Parker kindly loaning the chairs. The prizes were donated by the California Furniture Co. and Barker Bros. of Los Angeles.

Mr. Cowan and Mr. Chase were very generous with the use of their respective papers in giving the entertainment publicity.

The prize winners: Mrs. A. A. Barton, Mrs. Earl Shook, Mrs. G. K. Barnes, Mrs. LeRoy Bosserman, Mrs. George Smith, Mrs. James Gonzales and Mrs. V. Price Brown.

Mrs. John Robert White, who gave her home for the affair was the chairman, with Mrs. S. C. Leppleman assisting.

THE QUEEN ESTHER CIRCLE

The Queen Esther Circle of the First M. E. church entertained their mothers and the W. H. M. S. Tuesday afternoon in the church parlors. Miss Jessie Shepard presided at the business meeting. Miss Margaret Lusby gave two vocal numbers. Miss Lena Mae Brice gave two violin numbers, with Miss Waunita Emery at the piano. Miss Ila Brooks had charge of the "Glad Box" opening. The program was a splendid review of work done in the past year in the form of geography, arithmetic and history lessons in an old-fashioned school.

At the close of the program light refreshments were served and the guests spent a very pleasant social hour just "being glad" with the girls and their superintendent, Mrs. Jack Wagnon.

WEATHER FORECAST—Cloudy to-night. Fair Thursday. Westerly winds.

MUSICIANS COMING

CONSTANTINO, CADMAN, GLORIA MAYNE WINDSOR, MRS. LYNDE AT PATRIOTIC TEA

A great treat is in store for those who attend the Colonial Tea to be given Friday afternoon at the home of Mrs. E. W. Kinney, curator of the music section of the Tuesday Afternoon club, at 1223 West Seventh street. The program will be in keeping with the present national crisis, "All American."

In addition to the world-famous tenor, Florencio Constantino, and his guests, already mentioned in these columns, those who attend will have the pleasure of hearing the celebrated Australian prima donna, Gloria Mayne Windsor, who will sing Troyer's Indian songs. Charles Wakefield Cadman and mother and Miss Ethel Graham Lynde, official lecturer of the Symphony Concerts, will also be guests on this occasion.

The tea is for the benefit of the Music House settlement and Miss Margaret Goetz, president, will be present and explain the aim of the settlement work. The tickets are 25 cents. The Executive Board of the Tuesday Afternoon club will receive in Colonial costume and light refreshments will be served. All friends are invited to come out and aid this good work.

WOMEN IN PASADENA

PASADENA, May 3.—Members of the California Federation of Women's Clubs, assembled here in annual convention, devoted to-day largely to business. The election of officers, with three prominent club women of the state seeking the presidency, was the one big feature of the day, bringing to a close all of the days of active campaigning which has been done on behalf of the various candidates.

The election polls opened at 9 o'clock this morning and many of the delegates had voted before ten o'clock. The polls remained open until 2 o'clock this afternoon when the convention went into business session while the tellers were counting the ballots.

Appropriately for election day the program for the morning session had to do with civics and government in general. Mrs. Lillian Burkhardt Goldsmith addressed the session on "A New Conception of Civics," while Arthur Street, director of the American Institute of Current History, discussed "Relation of Knowledge of Current Events to Civic Work." "California History and Landmarks" was the third paper on the program, Mrs. A. C. Forbes presenting that subject.

Following an entire afternoon devoted to business with the single variation of entertainment offered by the local board, an evening of music is to be enjoyed to-night following a dinner at the Down and Out Club.

DUFFIELD'S ENTERTAIN

Mr. and Mrs. Henry S. Duffield are entertaining this evening at their home, 1222 Lomita avenue. The affair is in the nature of a farewell to Rev. Ada C. Bowles, their house guest, who leaves Friday morning for Boston after spending some months in Glendale. The guests invited by these genial hosts are Mr. and Mrs. Fred Scott, Dr. and Mrs. Roy Lummis, Mrs. Catherine Vaughn, Miss Marion Vaughn, Mrs. William Dunham, Miss Virginia Dunham, Mr. and Mrs. John Ocker, Mr. Walter Klopp, all of Los Angeles, and Mr. and Mrs. James Neill and Rev. James O'Neill and Donald Bowles, Glendale.

A BLOOMING DWARF

Mrs. Katherine Shry brought in as part of the Chamber of Commerce flower and plant display a beautiful little seedling orange tree. Though only about two-thirds the height of a lead pencil, it is in bloom, something said to be unusual here. It was sent in by her mother and grew in their garden, at 435 Louise street, Glendale. The window of the Chamber of Commerce is even more beautiful than usual, with an entirely new color scheme, thanks to the good taste and good offices of the Glendale Garden Society ladies, who are also planting flowers in the small back yard of the Glendale Chamber of Commerce. That, too, will soon be a thing of beauty.

ELKS WILL ENTERTAIN

The Elks will entertain their wives and families with a card party and dance, Friday evening, May 4th, at 8 o'clock at the Elks Club.

SUBMARINE SITUATION SERIOUS

HERBERT HOOVER SAYS SUBMARINE DESTRUCTION MUST BE STOPPED TO WIN WAR

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

NEW YORK, May 3.—"Submarine destruction has steadily increased the past six weeks and the situation is one of extreme gravity, make sure of that," said Herbert Hoover, food dictator, on his arrival from England to-day. He declared that as a result of the destruction of Belgian relief ships death among industrial workers in Belgium had tripled in the last two months. He said submarining formed the biggest menace of the war and must be eliminated if the Allies are to win. The food situation is making necessary the utilization of every American effort.

A thousand doctors will also be sent to England.

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

WASHINGTON, May 3.—The question of getting a vast number of ships to combat the submarine menace immediately is the big topic in government circles to-day. Even the food question is being eclipsed by this all-important matter.

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

AMBULANCE TEA

BEAUTIFUL FOOTHILL HOME OF MITCHELLS OPENED TO BRITISH SOCIETY

The garden party and tea given by the Glendale Branch British Ambulance Society last Saturday afternoon at the residence of Mrs. George Mitchell was a great success in every way. The weather being inclement, the affair was of necessity confined to the house and the plans of using the beautiful garden could not be carried out. But indoors all was cosy, with big open fires in all four of the handsome reception rooms. In the bay window of the library a fish pond was arranged, presided over by Miss Barbara Mitchell, and on a table were displayed many pretty things for sale as well as some delicious candy and Scotch short bread made by the hostess. British and American flags and a profusion of flowers were used to decorate. At four o'clock the program was given, the guests gathering in the music room to listen to the following numbers: Irish song, Mr. Edward Malley; "Romance," Svendsen, encore Beethoven Minuet, given by Prof. Lowinski with artistic and charming effect. By special request Mr. Reginald Whitaker sang Kipling's "Recessional" and an old English song, "Three for Jack." A dance by little Miss Doris Yaeger followed and two Scotch songs, "Loch Lomond" and "John Mackie," were sung with inimitable effect by Mr. Henry, the possessor of a ringing baritone voice and a delightful Scotch accent. Prof. Lowinski again gave two selections and Mr. Alexander Mitchell danced the Highland fling in true Scotch style. Prof. Kirk entertained the audience with a clever speech and the program closed with the singing of "Tipperary," "Auld Lang Syne" and the national anthem by the entire company. Delicious refreshments were served, the following ladies being in charge: Mrs. England, Mrs Bannock, Mrs. Malley, Mrs. Reginald Whitaker, Mrs. Bell, Mrs. Helen Campbell and many helpers.

The proceeds from the sale of articles, fish pond and refreshments, also donations, amounted to nearly $18.00, which will go into the treasury of the society and be used for purchasing materials for work.

It was not discovered until the close of the afternoon that the genial host, Mr. George Mitchell, was celebrating his birthday anniversary on this day. Had it been known sooner there would have been some special tribute made to him. About fifty guests were present and all voted the affair one of the jolliest yet given.

MRS. HAUN IN DRAMATIC RECITAL

Tuesday evening in the parlors of the Glendale Sanitarium before an interested and appreciative audience, Mrs. Martha Fowlkes-Haun appeared in a dramatic recital. The program, unusually well selected, comprised scenes, poems and excerpts from the old classics and late standard plays, thus giving the talented reader a great opportunity for versatility. Mrs. Haun passed from Browning and Tennyson to Thomas Nelson Page's quaint Southern dialect with inimitable grace and ease. She possesses a most striking personality combined with a deep voice of rare charm. Mrs. Haun is a graduate of Emerson College, Boston. Her work shows a depth and finish most unusual and is a result of long preparation and wide experience as platform reader and entertainer.

AN ACTOR'S EXPERIENCES

About fifty guests and members of the Literary Section of the Tuesday Afternoon club enjoyed the open meeting held Tuesday at the home of the curator, Mrs. William Ramsay, 437 Adams street. The Drama was the subject of the program. Mrs. Grover Cable, dressed in Grecian costume, gave a series of artistic poses representing American statuary, with Mrs. H. R. Boyer at the piano. The effect was very beautiful. Mrs. Kilfoil read very cleverly two humorous selections, "Before Miss Belle's Appearance" by Riley, and "Fooled," by Judd Mortimer Lewis.

Mr. Harry Duffield, the well-known actor, of Glendale, gave an interesting talk on the stage, telling of his association with many noted actors and actresses, also many humorous incidents which occurred in his long experience as an actor. With the assistance of Mrs. Duffield, he gave the fourth act of "Enoch Arden" so splendidly that there was scarcely a dry eye in the room. The afternoon closed with serving of tea and wafers, and a social half hour was enjoyed.

PLAYGROUND QUESTION

COMMITTEE RECOMMENDS THAT EACH SCHOOL HANDLE ITS OWN PROBLEM

The Executive Board of the Parent-Teacher's Federation has been seriously considering the question of supervised playgrounds for the coming summer. At a meeting held at the home of Mrs. Charles E. Hutchinson, president of the Federated Parent-Teacher's Association of Glendale, on the afternoon of May 1st, by resolution it was decided to recommend that the matter of summer playgrounds be referred to the several associations of the federation, to be handled by each as the local needs seem to warrant, recommending that if any playgrounds are needed in any districts, the matter of supervision be cared for by volunteer helpers under the control and direction of the Parent-Teacher association of that school.

This recommendation was made because of the desire of the Federated associations to co-operate in curtailing expenses at this time and to put no obstacle in the way of the gardening undertakings which are being started and with which the association is in deepest sympathy.

It is the sentiment of the committee that the time of the boys and girls, in most part, can be more profitably employed in adding to the nation's food supply through gardening than by passing the hours in play, even though properly supervised.

MOTHERS' CLUB

The Acacia street school Mothers' club, Tropico, of which Mrs. W. C. Wattles is president, held their May Day exercises on Tuesday at the school. The occasion was also in the nature of a rejoicing over the fact that the final payments on the grafonola and tennis courts had been made.

From eleven to twelve o'clock a fine program was rendered by the pupils of the school under the leadership of the teachers, Miss Cornwell and Miss Hamilton, and the music instructor, Miss Ruth Mitchell. Little Mabel Melrose was crowned May queen and made a very charming picture with her attendants, all dressed in white. At noon a bountiful luncheon was served to all present.

At the meeting of the Mothers' club in the afternoon the program given consisted of two piano numbers given by two pupils of the Cerritos school and an impromptu address by Mrs. Amy Peabody on the timely topic, "Woman's Place in the Present Crisis." Also Mrs. Peabody spoke of her work in the Sunshine society in Canada. Election of officers for the next year ensued. The following officers were elected: Mrs. P. J. Priaulx, president, Mrs. John Fox, vice-president, Miss Gladys Hamilton, secretary, Mrs. Geo. Peters, treasurer.

The next Mothers' club will be held the third Friday in May at the home of the new president, Mrs. P. J. Priaulx, West Park avenue, Tropico, and will be of a social nature.

MUTUAL BENEFIT CIRCLE

The meetings of the Mutual Benefit Reading Circle have been held weekly as usual. The attendance has been excellent. New members have been Mrs. W. A. Burns and Mrs. Wallace Tupper, both of Glendale. Guests have been Mrs. Herbert Beede, Mrs. Rachel Lord, Mrs. J. N. Marsh, Mrs. E. L. Shick, Mrs. Earl C. Turner, Mrs. Howard Reynolds of La Crescenta, Mrs. J. E. Colvin, Mrs. Ida Clarke Tripp of Balboa, and Mrs. Ella C. Wickersham of Alhambra.

"The New Vocational Ideal," "Methods of Vocational Guidance," "Vocational Schools for Boys," "Getting Started in Business," and "Preparation for Citizenship" have been the subjects read and discussed recently.

WE ARE NOT SO WORSE

Mrs. W. C. Bradley, 1617 Oak street recently heard from her son Frank, who about three years ago came to Glendale from Honduras, and went back there again a few months ago. He says flour there is 15c a pound (nearly $30 a barrel), small loaf of bread 11c, beans 16c a pound, sugar 11c, rice 12c, lard 45c, butter 80c, potatoes 13c, meat 16c, milk 10c a pint. The natives boil green bananas and make a sort of paste they use as a substitute for flour. The country is naturally very productive, but the people are lazy and have depended on the United States for supplies in exchange for their bananas, of which they ship great quantities.

STOCKING MOUNTAIN RANGES TO THE LIMIT

As part of the systematic campaign of the United States Department of Agriculture to increase the country's food supply the National Forest stock ranges are being gone over with a fine tooth comb to discover every acre available for summer grazing and the sheep and cattle to stock them.

For the last two years the Forest Service has devoted much time and money to promoting and developing the recreation use of the forests. It was planned to continue this work aggressively this season, to improve camp grounds and to issue more maps. This will be postponed, however, until the successful termination of the war with Germany.

In many cases range areas hitherto reserved for campers' horses will be used to produce beef, mutton, and wool. The time of the Forest Rangers will be spent in aiding the stockmen to so develop the ranges that more stock can be carried. By means of co-operative work with the Live Stock Associations and the University of California, the Department hopes to have many thousand more cattle on the Forest ranges this season than last.

In the opinion of the Forest officers meat and men are more needed this seaon than vacations, and while travel for pleasure in the mountains will in no way be discouraged, the Forest officers agree that the camper will meet more cows than deer in the National Forests.

WEARY WILLIE IN HARD LUCK

Under the bridge where I used to lie
There's a sentry stationed with eagle eye,
There's another standing with loaded gun
Where in the tunnel I used to run.
E'en in the car where I slept at night
They are carrying powder and dynamite.
With every guardsman seeking a spy
The road's no place for the hobo guy.

The "weary Willie" of the blind baggage is a thing of the past. He's marooned in the cities. No longer does "ride the rods," "deck 'er" or stow away in a battery box for a little sojourn to New Orleans or Memphis or Florida.

With every tunnel, bridge, snowshed and railroad yard patroled by national guardsmen the hobo's lot is not one to be envied.

The guardsmen are under orders to challenge all suspicious characters, consequently the hoboing profession has become an unhealthy one. The hobo who has visions of grabbing a "rattler" faces the possibility of being shot, jailed, put to work or made to enlist, and none of these alternatives appeals to his fancy.

The railroads announce that "hoboing" over their lines has practically ceased since the calling out of the national guard. A hobo who attempts to beat his way, seldom gets very far before being captured by the guardsmen.

LOOKING AHEAD IN THE PAPER INDUSTRY

"Conditions in the paper industry have constituted one of the most serious of our domestic problems during the last year," said D. F. Houston, Secretary of Agriculture, recently. "Due to the exorbitant prices charged for news print, the profits of the great dailies were either wiped out entirely or else reduced to a minimum, while the small publishers were brought face to face with suspension and even absolute ruin. Periodical publishers have fared no less badly, the profits of book publishers have changed to losses in many cases, and the price of paper of every kind has risen by leaps and bounds.

"The Federal Trade Commission has brought some measure of relief to the newspaper publishers. Competition has been freed from restraint, prices have been made to bear a closer relation to the cost of production, and a more equitable system of distribution has been devised so that the 'little fellows' will get their fair share of the manufactured product. But, while the inquiry of the Commission developed artificial control, it developed also that there is almost an equal balance between supply and demand in the paper industry.

"In 1914, we used about 5,000 tons of news print every day. Our present use has reached 6,000 tons a day and the demand appears to be increasing at the rate of 10 per cent. a year, materially faster than the increase in population. To supply our presses with news print requires annually about 3,000,000 cords of pulp wood. To meet our requirements for magazine and book paper, stationery and business papers of all forms, wrapping papers, wall papers, cardboard, fiber board and the like, 4,000,000 cords more of pulp wood are consumed annually. Production barely keeps pace with this consumption. For instance, the estimated demand for news print for the first six months of 1917 is 888,000 tons. Against this is placed an estimated supply of 930,000 tons.

"As if this close balance was not peril enough, there is the added fact that the United States depends upon Canada for a third of its news-print paper, either in the form of finished product or raw materials. This proportion is increasing rapidly. The pressure of economic conditions and lack of foresight in cutting the forests have so depleted the available private supply of pulp woods in many of the paper manufacturing states that there is not enough left to last more than ten or fifteen years. As a consequence, Canada is more and more called upon for pulp woods, and American manufacturers are showing an increasing disposition to slip across the border into the virgin forests of the Dominion.

"It is this condition of dependence that should be ended. Changes in Canadian policy might at any time cut off our newspapers from this source of supply or make it available only at excessive cost. On the other hand, our own forest resources are ample to meet all the paper requirements of the country. Aside from the waste materials produced in the manufacture of lumber and the possible growth on 65 or 70 million acres of cut-over forest lands in the Northern States, the publicly owned National forests contain enough pulp wood to supply the entire paper needs of the United States for the next eighty years. Cut intelligently, it constitutes virtually an inexhaustible supply for all time.

"The Forest Service has estimated the pulp wood in the National forests at three hundred billion feet. This means six hundred million cords, and for all paper of all kinds we use but seven million cords a year. There are other large supplies of pulp wood on privately owned lands in the West. These western raw materials are much cheaper than the woods now used by paper mills in the Northeast. While pulp-wood stumpage in the Northern States costs from $2.50 to $5.00 per cord standing in the forests, first-class western timbers are available at prices ranging from 25 cents to $1.50 per cord. Long-distance transportation and the large investments tied up in paper plants necessarily will retard the westward expansion or migration of this industry; but unquestionably it should afford one means of increasing the production of paper to keep pace with current demands."

DEPUTY SHERIFFS ARE DRILLING

One hundred twenty-five husky deputy sheriffs in Los Angeles are receiving lessons in the art of "hay foot, straw foot" each night and morning, under the direction of regular army officers. With this force nearing a finished stage in its training, Sheriff Cline believes he will have a body of men amply able to cope with the defense problems which may arise in Los Angeles.

"We are drilling 125 now," said the Sheriff, "and they are learning the lessons of the school of the soldier. I plan, however, to increase this number to 400 and am picking my men with the greatest care.

"Each man will be well drilled and well armed and we will have a force the city can well be proud of."

A FEW LINES OF POLITICS

Several prominent progressives, desirous of keeping Governor Stephens "out of a hole" will plead with him not to sign the defense guard bill, it was learned to-day. This is the bill giving the Governor power to appoint a guard of 1000 men at an expense of $1,000,000.

It also leaked out that the bill was drafted and introduced into the legislature over the protest of state officials who were among the strongest supporters of former Governor Johnson and who enjoyed the utmost confidence of the former governor. But Stephens turned a deaf ear to them and listened to his own personally selected advisers.

One of the leading state officials said: "It is not too late for the Governor to get out of this predicament if he will only listen. He will be asked, now that the bill is passed, to allow it to die without signature. It remains to be seen whether he will hearken to this advice. There has been loud protest against the bill from all parts of the state."

Records in the state controller's office disclose that the governor thus far has drawn $5000 of the $100,000 appropriated in the council of defense bill. The bill is so worded that the governor is not required to give an account of the expenditures.

John F. Neylan, chairman of the board of control, whose chief duty during the legislative session was to trim appropriation bills, is on a little vacation this week, trying to regain some of the 16 pounds of avoirdupois he lost during the session. "We slashed out a total of $28,000,000," said Neylan upon departing, "which called for most everything from a weed commission to monuments. 'Twas a hard job but it had to be done in accordance with the retrenchment policy."

Mr. Wagner had enlisted and was in the training camp at Great Falls, Ill. A letter from him Monday announced himself in the best of health and spirits.

Mr. John J. Cappon, a retired capitalist of Michigan, has returned home after spending some time in Glendale and vicinity. Mr. Cappon is a cousin of Mrs. John Graf, 1220 West Seventh street. A number of delightful motor trips were taken and Mr. Cappon was so taken with the beauties of California that he has about decided to make his home here.

Mr. and Mrs. A. D. McCoy of 127 East Third street returned yesterday from Honolulu, where they spent a delightful three months. They left Glendale in January, arriving February 6th at Honolulu. Every moment was most enjoyable and they visited many interesting places and saw the many wonders of the islands. They regretted very much not to see Mr. Kenneth Barager, formerly of Glendale, who is teaching in the High School at Hilo. But Mr. Barager was away on his Easter vacation and could not be reached. Mrs. McCoy reports a delightful voyage home, as the sea was very calm and they were not troubled with seasickness.

THE HOMELIKE CHURCH

Last Sunday's services were a mighty inspiration to all. The morning sermon on "Team Work," showing what can be accomplished by co-operation, was uplifting and helpful. The speaker dwelt upon the New Testament narratives of the disciples and later the 70 going out two by two, proclaiming the kingdom, and cited present day instances of building up congregations by men going out two by two to visit the membership. In the evening the speaker talked of America and the world's need of Christ and what they owe to him. All our present day civilization we owe to Christ and the practice of his teachings. Even a hardened infidel wants to live in a Christian community and it is always the number of school and churches, never the saloons, that is mentioned in the write-up of a growing city. The present world war does not show the failure of Christ and his teachings, but the failure of men to live Christ.

Next Sunday marks an innovation in church services in Glendale. Then will be inaugurated the Unified Service, beginning at 9:30 and ending at 11:30. The first hour will be devoted to the Sunday School work and the second to worship, with no intermission. Sunday School teachers and all the scholars except those of the primary will remain for the preaching service. When the new plan is working perfectly it is expected to add greatly to the interest and effectiveness of the service. Those who come for the worship alone should be there promptly at 10:30 as the sermon begins at 11 or 11:05.

SOCIAL MEDICOS

By Walt. Le Noir Church, C. C. D.

Dr. B. L. Baker, in the Relax Home and Hospital, 525 West San Fernando boulevard, was host at an informal dinner given last evening to a number of medical men from Los Angeles, Burbank, Glendale and Tropico. Among those present were Dr. George W. Brown, Dr. S. W. Alter and Dr. Joseph Jacobs of Los Angeles, Dr. H. X. Cline, of Burbank, Dr. A. M. Duncan, Dr. E. F. Tholen, Tropico, Drs. W. L. Hunt, Henry R. Harrower, J. L. Flint, H. C. Smith and A. W. Teel of Glendale.

One facetiously truthful Sir Knight of Lancet and Prescription Pen dubbed Walt. Le Noir Church "C. C. D." (Doctor Chamber of Commerce) hinting that some special distinction should be conferred on the guest of honor.

The guests were shown through the well-located, spacious, properly equipped, cheerful-looking sanitarium, which seems comfortable enough for a rest-cure home. Then they all enjoyed a mighty good, wholesome dinner which did great credit to the hospitable hostess, Mrs. Grace M. Rottner, Superintendent.

One object of Dr. Baker's hospitality was to get physicians together from the several surrounding cities, so that they might become better acquainted with one another, for mutual improvement as well as pro bono publico.

Need is felt for some association which would bring them frequently together without violating the laws of the Medes and the Persians or of the County Medical Association, heretofore an un-cut Gordian Knot. The newly dubbed Knight of First Relief to fainting chambers of commerce timidly suggested that he hesitated to rush in where angels fear to tread. Furthermore, the Wicked flee, when no one pursueth, but the righteous, is as bold as a lion. "Moreover," quoth he, "while I can not saw your leg off, I can 'talk your arm off,' if need be for Glendale betterment, and likewise I am some cutter of Gordian knots, or words to that effect."

"Well, the spud in the treasure vault is just this: Why not every Medicus who will, meet at the Glendale Chamber of Commerce whenever you will, noon, night or between time, and in an unorganized, go-as-you-please organization, have the best times possible and get acquainted? Appoint one of several applicants to be host at the next meeting, he to make all arrangements for a Dutch treat feed, and for that session's entertainment, at such place as he will. No expense to any one else, except the fixed stipend for the feed—semper idem. Et cetera, et cetera, et cetera."

With one voice the Medicos replied: "Go to it. Call such a meet, and many medicos will be there with the glad hand."

Such a meeting will be called to be held in the Glendale Chamber of Commerce within a short time.

FREE STEREOPTICON TO-NIGHT

Patriotic gardening, illustrated by stereopticon pictures, will be the feature this evening at the Garden Society meeting in the Intermediate school at 8 o'clock. A slide of some of the bird houses made last fall and some prize winners, one of a little Tropico lad, and one of the juvenile vegetable market held last week at Columbus avenue school, show the very latest Glendale current events. All the pictures are new. We must all be interested in the soldiers of the soil. We must all either become the men behind the hoe, or we must be the men behind the men behind the hoe. Conservation of food is our nearest and most important duty. Attend this free lecture and give the Garden Society your hearty support.

The Glendale Evening News should be delivered at your home by the carrier not later than 4:30 p. m. every day except Sunday, and usually much earlier than that time. Subscribers who have not received their paper at 4:30 o'clock, should notify the office by phone: Glendale 132, Home 2401.

Don't Be Deceived

Shoes are like persons—what they look like is not always what they are,
—and it often takes close companionship to find them out.

When the wise man buys shoes he looks at value instead of cost. He wears better shoes, wears them longer they look better, feel better and in the end cost less.

The shrewd bond buyer pays no attention to the gold on the paper, but looks at the gold back of the paper.

Glitter and glamour make no impression upon him.

Remember this: Many crooks have been captured in full dress suits.

About the first thing a man does when he wants to unload his worn-out auto is to have it painted and polished.

LA CANADA

Following up the offer of Mr. and Mrs. Warren Witham, who offered four acres of their land to the La Canada school boys for the express purpose of planting out garden, a committee of five, appointed by the La Canada Improvement Association, which met in the new school building last Saturday night, will take the initiative and superintend the boys in the work. Mr. Nicholson, Brooks, Jackson, Williams and Penfield were named to act in the above mentioned capacity.

Mr. Witham suggested that the land was not in readiness for planting and that it might be necessary to plow up the ground. Mr. McMullin and Mr. Witham offered the use of their horses.

The idea of planting a garden grew out of the Open Forum, announced by Mr. Brooks as the program for the Improvement meeting last Saturday.

After the business was completed, Mr. Brooks, president of the association, gave an informal few minutes talk on the conditions in Europe. He suggested that we could each do our part in sharing the world's burden by merely planting a small vegetable garden. Mrs. Penfield announced that the little boys in the grammar school were very anxious to do their part. It was then that Mrs. Witham donated the use of four acres of land. Mr. Jewett submitted a pamphlet to Mr. Brooks on food conditions in America, to be read to the association. After the food problem cleared itself up to the satisfaction of all, the question of annexation came up.

The proposition of the annexation of a part of La Canada to Pasadena has been before the people for several weeks. Mr. Brooks gave his views upon the question and asked the people to express themselves. Several raised objections to the proposed plan of annexation. As no one seemed disposed to refute the objections, the discussion was dropped. The meeting adjourned with a requested prayer by Dr. Scott.

Because of the inability of Miss Fannie Jewett to be present, the "Busy Fingers" postponed its scheduled meeting from last Monday, April 30, to the following Monday afternoon. The "Busy Fingers," headed by Fannie Jewett, is an organization of the little girls of the La Canada grammar school. They come together once a week in order to sew for the benefit of the Red Cross. Mrs. Penfield, president of the Parent-Teacher association, met with the girls for a few minutes this week. She encouraged them in the good work they were doing and talked some of the Red Cross organization. The "Busy Fingers" are interested in their work and are anxious to be busy again next Monday.

Welcoming the people of La Canada to their home, Dr. and Mrs. Scott of Michigan avenue, open their home Friday night, May 4, 1917, for a La Canada Ladies' Aid Social. This affair is not solely for the members of the Aid, but all who wish to partake of the evening's enjoyment. This is the first social given by the ladies for several months. Mrs. Scott wishes it to be a grand success.

For the past two months the word "annexation" has been continually floating around La Canada. Several months ago a census was taken of La Canada. At that time some were talking of a sixth class city if the census amounted to 500 or more.

In opposition to becoming a sixth class city, annexation to Pasadena was proposed. This plan met with immediate disfavor in different portions of the valley. The annexation line at first included those living below the 1500 foot level. Unable to meet the satisfaction of all concerned, the leaders of the annexation proposition rearranged the boundary line. Still the proposed plan meets with disapproval from certain quarters. At a meeting held at Mr. C. B. Anderson's on Haskell street last Friday night, the boundary line was discussed. Although those present disapproved of the line, they took no definite action. The election which decides whether or not the annexation carries is staged for soon after May 28th.

With the expectation of a large crowd, the La Canada club dance takes place Saturday night, May 5, in the La Canada club hall. Music has been secured from Pasadena. Mr. Tom Hall announced a definite intention of having "eats." The club extends an invitation to the patrons of the La Crescenta dancing club. "We have not a lovely hall to offer," said one of the club members, "but we want you to share what we have. And we want you all to come."

Thomas Hall, president of the club, is one of the patrons of the old La Canada dances. "Come on out," he said, "let's make it a regular 'old timer.'" Saturday night, May 5, at 8 o'clock.

After signing the petition submitted by Mrs. J. Murray of Craig street, the La Canada Red Cross has now formally become a branch of the Pasadena Red Cross organization. Although La Canada first organized with the intention of being a branch of Pasadena's Red Cross, it was necessary to have on file a formally drawn petition signed by the members. The Red Cross met this week in the unoccupied room of the new school building. There were fifteen members present. Three new members joined. This makes a total enrollment of forty-seven. Through the kindness of several of the women four machines were donated for use. Robert Cooper offered his services in transporting the machines. The Pasadena Red Cross sent out twenty night shirts which furnished plenty of work for the afternoon.

Last week Mrs. Murray agreed to look into the matter of securing a teacher for a First Aid or Home Nursing course. By communicating with Pasadena, Mrs. Murray found that an undertaking would be impossible for the present at least. The Pasadena Red Cross has had so many demands for instructors in this line that they are unable to fulfill nearly all of them. They asked Mrs. Murray to leave an application for a teacher. It is possible that the La Canada Red Cross may have a chance for an instructor in the latter part of June.

The Pasadena Red Cross is planning to give a pageant on Memorial Day. All the branch organizations are asked to participate if they so desire. Several members of the La Canada branch are thinking over the possibilities of entering. It may be possible that they will ask the co-operation of some of the young people. The next Red Cross meeting will be held next Tuesday afternoon in the school building.

Friday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock, May 11, the next Parent-Teachers meeting will be held in the school building. Mrs. Penfield, president of the organization, asks all to be present if possible. This meeting will be the time for election of officers.

Because of the recent drop in the orange market, the Pasadena Orange Growers Association asked the stockholders of that association to meet with the board last Tuesday afternoon and discuss the condition of the orange market at the present time.

For the past two weeks oranges have been selling at such a low rate that it hardly paid to ship them. The Seedlings and St. Michaels, which are usually good sellers, are bringing in next to nothing. The Board hoped that with the council of the stockholders they might devise a better way to dispose of the fruit. After talking over the conditions it was decided to leave the distribution of the fruit to the officials of the Orange Growers Association. Mr. P. H. Johnson, Mr. Shepherd and D. J. Green from La Canada attended the meeting.

LA CRESCENTA

Next Tuesday will bring us Florence Rockwell in E. P. Roe's famous old story, "He fell in love with his wife." This may sound a queer title for a photo-play, but if you like a story well acted, well staged and popular players, do not fail to come and see it. The play opens with a situation that grips your interest and holds it to the finish. James Holcraft needs a wife to look after him and his affairs. He picks out an orphan and marries for just that reason. After varied and various happenings he suddenly wakes up to the fact that he has fallen desperately and deeply in love with "Alida," and she, poor child, had long before settled in her mind that no matter how much she cared for him he never, never could come to love a poor little nobody orphan such as she. But he does, and "all's well that ends well."

Saturday night, April 28, will linger in the memories of all those who braved the weather and torn-up roads to come out to the musicale given by Mrs. Groton's committee at the school auditorium for the Women's club. The numbers of the program were so delightfully selected and beautifully rendered and Mrs. Lee, whose piano work is so well-known in our valley, played a solo and as encore the Sextette from Lucia for one hand, as well as all the accompanying. Miss Hazel Schortzinger, the harpist, was received with more than delight. The harp is such a rarely played instrument that it is both a treat musically and a picture to treasure when genius and beauty are so well combined. Miss Mable Clark sang several beautiful selections, the last with Miss Schortzinger accompanying her. The zithers were another novelty for us. Mrs. Volner and Mr. Frederick Jungquist and one trio with Mrs. Frederick Jungquist, who also was the saxaphone soloist. It was the most artistic and altogether highly classed evening that has been given in our valley. Captain Hatch has been giving a number of interesting lectures in Los Angeles. On Tuesday he spoke before the American Society for National Service on "What is it that makes a Soldier?" On Thursday at the Segonia club (of business men) the subject was, "The Proper Defense of the Pacific Coast," and on Friday he spoke on "Preparedness" before the "Daughters of 1812." He awakened a great deal of interest on these subjects, on which he is so well fitted to speak, and many questions followed his remarks.

"When passion kicks reason out of the door, when flaming patriotism's ruddy glare lights up the lowering clouds, it is far easier and safer to march with the crowd than to stand in its way. . . . We do not attack the motives or suspect the loyalty of every person who does not agree with us. Even in war time difference of opinion and honest criticism are signs of national good health. Even in war time tolerance does not cease to be one of the cardinal virtues."—May Sunset.

SOLDIERS OF THE SOIL

We want everybody, young and old, to become a soldier of the soil. Register as one at any school or at the Chamber of Commerce, or at 1222 Milford. There are no strings or conditions beyond lending your co-operation by keeping data on a prescribed form of the value put in and taken out of the soil. By doing this you will greatly assist the statistical experts of the United States.

You may buy a button, too, if you like. To wear it will show the public at large that you are helping in a great patriotic work. The profit made on the sale of the button will assist the Garden Society in the enormous work it has undertaken. Come to-night to the free illustrated talk on Patriotic Gardening. The talk will do you good and you will hear and see much of interest. Third street school (Intermediate), 8 o'clock p. m.

MERELY LINES

Yes, Annette, I guess I'll have to Stand for earrings long and black;
Ratted tresses, gowns and dresses
Hooked or buttoned up the back;
But if should ever meet you
Riding with a dog, you bet,
I shall more than likely beat you,
Dear Annette.

There are things that I'll put up with,
Even playing bridge all day;
Bits of scandal you maye dandle
In a woman's usual way;
But if I should catch you kissing
Fuzzy poodles, you galoot,
Do not be surprised, my dearie,
If I shoot.

WHAT HEATHEN WROTE THIS?

Said Aaron unto Moses,
"Down by the dark blue sea,
The ladies here disport themselves,
In scanty drapery.

They frolic in the surf and waves,
They're pretty as the roses,
Of course you wouldn't dare to look."
"The deuce I won't," said Moses.

WE'LL BET HE DIDN'T

A young lad, fresh from the farm, sat watching a group of men in a construction camp, engaged in the usual Saturday night pastime—"the great American game." After watching the game silently for a time he inquired: "Is that poker you fellows are playing?" On being informed that it was, he volunteered: "Well, I'll be darned! I've been watching this game carefully for about fifteen minutes, and I don't believe I thoroughly understand it yet."

"Good morning, Mrs. Murphy," said Mrs. Rogers to the new cook. "Was the grocer's boy impudent to you again this morning when you phoned the order in?"

"He was that," complained Mrs. murphy, "but I fixed him this time. I sez, 'Who in blazes do you think you're talking to? This is Mrs. Rogers.'"

WEED NOW IN DEMAND

Due to war conditions jimson weed, once a despised and feared pest because of its intensely poisonous qualities, has become an important product of the Westfield district, near Porterville. According to reports to the Chamber of Commerce more than 100 acres of the smal lfarms of that section will be devoted to a production of the plant this summer.

Buyers for wholesale drug houses are offering 12 cents per pound for the leaves of the jimson delivered in Porterville. The leaves yield the drug stramonium, which is widely used in relief of asthmatic affections.

EVEN WORSE HAS HAPPENED

A gentleman farmer tells of a city lad who once worked for him.

The lad was called one winter morning before dawn and told to harness the mule to the dearborn.

The lad was too lazy to light a lantern, and in the dark he didn't notice that one of the cows was in the stable with the mule. The farmer, impatient at the long delay, shouted from the house:

"Billy, what are you doing?"

"I can't get the collar over the mule's head," yelled back the boy. "His ears are frozen."—Collier's Weekly.

Mrs. Kawler—"I'm just glad to hear you say you wish the war was over, son. It's a very cruel business."

Son—" 'Tain't that. War makes history, and there's more of that already than I can ever learn."—Boston Transcript.
